

BESTBID

ELECTRICAL ESTIMATING SOFTWARE

The Best Bid can be modified to do just about anything making it the quickest and most adaptable estimating software on the market. As with any new tool it takes a little time to become familiar with it.

We have found that the best way to get the most out of your software is to follow these simple steps.

1. Never try to do a live bid with a firm bid date right out of the box so to speak. As with any software there is a learning curve. You should play with the software a while just to see what happens when you select the buttons. Just have fun and get use to it.
2. Allot yourself some free time every day to learn the software. Just spend a few minutes a day, without interruption, to see what happens when you select each button. Learn where the information goes when you enter it.
3. Watch the videos. There are many videos to watch and learn from. The investment in time will last you a lifetime.
4. No one has ever gone back to pen and paper once they have mastered computerized estimating.

If you have questions please make a list and email them to us at stevelgriffin@hotmail.com

We will answer them as soon as we can.

NOTE: Your user name to logon to the software will be admin and the password will be p@ssword.

To enter the user site you will use your email address and the password will be emailed to you.